VOL. 38 BARIUM SPRINGS, N. C., APRIL 1961 No. 4

Board Of Regents To Convene In May

The Board of Regents will hold its annual Spring Meeting at Barium Springs during the second week of May. For four of the members, it will be their final meeting as this will complete the second four-year term and they are, by the rules of Synod, ineligible for re-election. The retiring members are Mrs. Emmett Crook, Mecklenburg Presbytery; Mr. Charles T. Hagan, Jr, Orange Presbytery; Mr. Ennis Jackson, Kings Mountain Presbytery; and Mrs. Flake Steele, Sr., Winston-Salem Presbytery. Mr. Finley T. White, the other member of the Class of '61, has asked to be replaced on the Board. Thus the Regents will be offering suggestions to the nominating committee for the five replacements on the Board at the next meeting of the Synod of North Carolina.

The Board, under the direction of President M. C. Benton, Jr., will be formulating its annual report to the Synod of North Carolina and preparing the budget to present to the Council and then to the Synod for the year '61 and '62. Special interest will center in the proposed evaluation of the Home that is being planned by the Board members. Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas, Professor in the school of social work at the University of North Carolina, the director of Child Care Project of the Southeastern Child Care Conference, and nationally recognized leader in the field of Child Care, is being asked to give a special study to the present operation of the Home and to set forth goals for the future. This report will be received at the Fall Meeting of the Board.

This lovely little lake is located on the eastern side of the property of the Home and will serve many purposes. It was built by the Middle Yadkin Soil Conservation Division, and will serve not only to conserve the water supply for all those who are below the dam on Third Creek but also afford water for irrigation of the gardens on the Barium property. This will probably become the picnic ground for the Barium family.

RUMPLE HALL

Hi,

Well, that beautiful spring is here again. You sure can tell it over the campus—the girls out strolling with their new dresses and outfits on, the bees buzzing around the trees, and the pretty weather we're having. We attended special services during the last week of March. Mr. Carter and the choir planned the services each night. We enjoyed them very much.

Vacation is just around the corner and school will be out in no time. Soon the apples will be picked, the hay brought in, and the summer schedule will begin.

We had only one person to have a birthday in March—Nancy Finley. Jeanette Grier, Mary Della Hyde, and Dona Richardson all have birthdays in April.

The band gave a concert to the Alumni Club. It will have another one April 7. We have three people in our cottage in the band. They are Linda Sue Medlin, Sue Bush, and Lou Anna Bridgers.

Three Dozen Formals Necessary For Junior-Senior

Dinner jackets and evening dresses by the dozens is what's required at Barium Springs when Junior - Senior time comes. This outstanding event of the high school year always calls for a great deal of preparation. In addition to the juniors and seniors who attend the banquet, some of the sophomores are invited to the prom afterwards. This means that everybody has to be dressed in good taste and requires the hustle and hurry of fitting and ordering, trimming and adjusting. Not only that, it involves transportation to and from. Once the young ladies are dressed out in their finest regalia for the evening, there's hardly room for more than one couple to an automobile. So the motor vehicles of the campus are corralled and a transportation schedule is set up to see that each one has a way to the evening's affair.

It is a far cry from the day when the Junior-Senior was held on the campus and all the requirements of the community social event did not apply. It can be said with pride and integrity that the Barium boys and girls were among the loveliest of the ladies and the handsomest of the men.

An Organ Is Dedicated And A Tribute Given

Steele Creek Presbyterian Church recently dedicated a new organ in memory of Doctor and Mrs. J. M. Walker. Because of the faithful service of Doctor and Mrs. Walker in the Steele Creek Church to the Home at Barium Springs, the tribute prepared by Elder J. M. Boyles is carried herewith: "I have been asked to turn some of the pages in the book called memory. There are those who could do this with more fitting words, but since I have been chosen I will have to do it in my own simple way.

"To those of you who have moved into Steele Creek community and joined this church since the year 1950, when you hear the name Walker that perhaps to you is just another name. But to those of us who have been here down through the years when we hear the name Walker our thoughts go back to Dr. John Mack Walker, to his good wife, Mrs. Annie Muller Walker, and to their four fine children, John Mack, Jr., Lila Peck, English, and Sara. Dr. Walker was pastor of Steele Creek Church for more than twenty-seven years. He and his good family lived in the Steele Creek manse. For more than twenty-seven years they walked with us in our everyday life. They shared with us in our sorrows as well as our joys.

"On a cold night in October in the year 1920, a telephone call came to our home saying that the new preacher and his family had arrived in this community. Their furniture was in a boxcar at the Southern Freight Depot in Charlotte and they needed help to be moved. My daddy told me that we would get up early the next morning and he would let me take the wagon and go along with a number of others who had volunteered to help the move. No sooner had we backed up to the manse and pushed the furniture through the door and drove away when things started moving at Steele Creek and they have been on the move ever since.

"Immediately Dr. Walker saw the need of a Sunday School building here at this church. He called the people together and told them of a plan for this Sunday School building right behind the choir. The response to that meeting was marvelous. Shortly after that he told of the need of a Community House to be built somewhere on the church ground property. Quickly the people came together and that building was erected. But soon after that a terrible depression struck—one like we had never seen before nor since. But Dr. and Mrs. Walker never seemed to let us lose the faith. That building was completed and paid for in due time.

"To those of you here today who were young people back in the days when I was a boy will always remember and cherish the good times

Calvin Burleson Honored In First Year

Both the coach and one of his players won top honors in the Greenville News Second Annual Big 14 All-Star. The coach was Calvin Burleson, a former Barium Student, and the player was George Lyons of Rock Hill School who had played for Burleson during the year. The coaches were invited to vote for their selection in the Big 14. Burleson in his first year of coaching won his award in a close race with Coach Herb Robinson of the State Champion Dreher High Blue Devils. A 1960 graduate of Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone, North Carolina, Coach Burleson played three years of football there. He is a native of Barium Springs, North Carolina. "I am really surprised and very lucky to win this," Burleson said. "I was fortunate in having the boys to work with and especially lucky to have George Lyons."

The Bearcats had a 20-6 overall record this season and a 12-6 conference mark counting tournament play. In the year before the Bearcats only won seven games.

Lyons, the player of the year, is a 6-1 senior forward. He had played guard until this season when he was switched to forward because Coach Burleson needed a good shooting forward.

As for his shooting, which was at a 22.3 point per game clip during the season for the top rank in the Big 14, Burleson says he doesn't think that is George's biggest asset. He sets up a lot of plays and was the leader on the team in assists. For that reason it is predicted that he will be a good college prospect at guard.

Beautiful Things

Morning is a mystic majestic thing,
With the sun's light shining so clear.
The birds are singing,
Their songs are bringing
Sweet music to my ear.

When God's children awake,
They look toward the day ahead,
And look with awe upon the loveliness,
After scampering out of bed.

Do they, or do they not know,
That God has made this day.
With love and gentle kindness,
His hand on the earth He laid.

Night is a magic beautiful thing,
With everything so quiet and still.
Everyone sleeping, not a bird peeping,
Sh! Sh! be quiet, don't move, be still.

UNDER THE STEEPLE

By Rev. Hugh B. Carter, Jr.

It's the Senior High Fellowship still making news under the steeple of Little Joe's Church. After listening to Dr. Hugh Bradley tell about World Missions at a rally one rainy night, our Senior Highs lost no time in planning a project to secure a little more money for the special World Mission offering. The project decided upon was a "Car-wash." Two Saturday afternoons were set aside to wash cars; the first Saturday, they were rained out; the second Saturday nineteen Senior Highs washed 22 cars and sent thirty-three dollars to missions. Those who washed and wiped and swept and cleaned cars were Walter and Edward Barefoot, Rita Harris, Lacy Lentz, Howard Cox, Elva Medlin, Sue Bush, Frosty Murdoch, Patsy Porter, Patsy Ross, Walter Snead, Ginger Kiser, Jeanette Grier, Jackie Taylor, Eloise Barefoot, Henry Bridgers, Joyce Ann Hughes, Peggy Bridgers, and Judy Smith.

The Senior Highs also held a Sunday afternoon worship service for the patients at Hill Haven Rest Home nearby. An ice skating party at the Charlotte Coliseum was another recent activity. Before the end of April, Senior Highs will have a recreation night with folk games directed by Rev. Wilkes Macaulay, and Rev. Klell Napps, each of whom will bring their Senior Highs to our gymnasium; the group will be guests of the SHF of McKinnon Church in Concord, and shall have attended the Presbytery Rally at Mooresville before this issue of the Messenger.

College student members of Little Joe's have been home during the Easter season. The minister managed to get in at least a word edgewise with the following: Dickie and Melvin McKenzie, Douglas Finley, Mac and Beverly McClure, Donald Frazier, Jim White, Jim Bunnell, Randy Shaw, Jim Blake, Kay Nance, Celia Donaldson, Audrey Waters, Julia Clendenin and Bette Jeane Murdoch. Julia assisted at some of the Easter services by playing the organ. Jeane Murdoch has been the recipient of a number of awards at Mary Baldwin, two of which have not previously honored freshmen.

Pioneers have completed another contest series, the winners being Belle Calhoun, Linda Sue Medlin, Gail Nance, Mildred Waters, Charles McBennett, Al Blake, Tommy Bush, Terry Roderick, and Jack Smith. This team had as co-captains, Lou Anna Bridgers, and Larry Edwards. Their treat was a cook-out at a nearby roadside park.

The Ushers of Little Joe's have a mountain side cookout planned for April. Under the auspices of the Diaconate, the ushers and their dates will spend a Saturday afternoon in the Blue Ridge. Members of the Guild are, Lacy Lentz, Captain, Walter Barefoot, Howard Cox, Douglas Finley, Charles McLean, Gene Taylor, Braxton Bridgers, and Mike Morgan.

The sacrament of Baptism was administered on Palm Sunday to Ginger Sherrill Sigmon, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sigmon of Troutman.

Miss Rosemary Rector, our Director of Youth Work and the Church School has recently completed the selection and distribution of some 150 volumes which will form the cornerstone of a Church Library. Approximately ten or twelve books have been loaned to each cottage and to the Infirmary, and will be rotated periodically from one cottage to another. We are very proud of this excellent library.

Someone has said that a lost soul is not just a soul that has lost God, but a soul that God himself has lost, and for which He is ever seeking, that He might find it and bring it back to Himself. In this connection, we might think of every person as someone sent to us in the providence of God—someone to whom He would say the Word of Grace through us.

INFIRMARY NEWS

Hi Folks,

Here are the infirmary people again. We haven't been doing much around here lately but cleaning everything and getting ready for some more patients that might come any time. We really don't expect to have very many near Easter, because everyone wants to get outside and hide eggs and do other exciting things pertaining to Easter fun.

As school is nearing its end, we have to study a little harder and spend a little more time on our subjects. So far, both infirmary girls are passing their grades. We are certainly looking forward to becoming seniors next year.

On Easter morning, the campus had a sunrise service early before we ate our breakfast. This event helped us to understand a little more the full meaning of Christ's death on the cross for us.

We hope all of you had a Happy Easter!

SOUTH COTTAGE

Hi there,

Not too much has happened around here lately. Butch Elliott cut his finger a couple of days ago. It is much better now.

The weather is windy and cool, but sunny. It sure is nice to get into the sun.

Abner Wilkins has two baby squirrels which he caught last week. They are very cute. There aren't any birthdays in April in our cottage. March 30 was Butch Elliott's birthday. This is South saying good-bye until another time.

HOWARD COTTAGE

Hi There,

It is Easter time again. We all sure are happy.

Last week we had pre-Easter services all week. They sure were good.

All of us have pretty new spring dresses and shoes.

This morning we dyed eggs green, blue, yellow, red, purple and other colors. Rita made a graduate egg with a cap on his head for her senior brother.

Our house mother has been on a leave of absence and she came home to a surprise welcome home cake and an Easter corsage.

We have one girl who has a birthday this month, Mary Tyndall. She will be fifteen.

We only lost two days in school this winter because of the snow so we got to have our two Easter holidays. All of us, except Cathy Smith who is in the third grade, go to Troutman School.

On Easter morning we always have an Easter Sunrise service. We love to watch the sun come up as we recite the Apostles' Creed.

Our new cottage is going up fine and every day we get more anxious to get into it.

Love to all of you,
Howard Girls

JENNIE GILMER

Hello Again,

We're all set for Easter now. We have had services every night this week, which have been very good, and are looking forward to our sunrise service. We dyed eggs and the ladies of Circle No. 4 of the First Presbyterian Church in Mooresville brought us a beautiful big Easter basket full of goodies and lots of Bunnie cookies which we really enjoyed.

We're looking forward to spring and to being out of school before too long. We have fourteen boys now plus a dog, a cat, and three baby squirrels. We also have a new substitute housemother, Mrs. Hollifield, and we like her a lot.

Mr. Ervin and his carpenter shop boys have been repairing all our screens with new screening and we're really grateful for this. It makes our house look so much better outside, and will be good to keep out the insects and flies this summer.

LOTTIE WALKER

As spring is here all the boys are having a grand time. Every one of the boys are playing marbles. The only trouble is that the ground is too wet most of the time.

We had five boys to go to the Court of Honor March 23. Of the five boys that went, four of them received the rank of second class. They are Randy and Angus Medlin and Charles and Jack Smith. Charles McBennett received the cooking Merit Badge.

We all enjoyed the prayer services we had Sunday through Friday, March 26-31.

We have a new boy in our cottage. Pete Johnson, who is eleven years old. Pete comes to our cottage from Durham, North Carolina.

One boy in our cottage has a birthday in April—Charles McBennett, whose birthday is April 29. Charles will be fourteen years old. Happy birthday, Charles.

Welcome home Mrs. Louise Johnson.

we had at the manse. We have been there at all seasons of the year. I think one of the most delightful occasions of all was when we would gather on the lawn the latter part of August for a big watermelon cutting. I have been to that home all seasons of the year; I have been there at Christmas time for a party when the weather would be similar to what we had here this last Thursday night, and it seemed to me that every young person within the bounds of this church would be there. And never before nor since have I tasted homemade ice cream so delicious as Mrs. Walker could prepare and serve.

"Those of you today who can recall back those days, as well as now, will remember that quite often we were called here to this place for a funeral service for some loved one; and those of us, like you, Billie Watt, can close our eyes now and almost hear Dr. Walker's prayer as he would pour out the beautiful words of comfort at a time like that. Those of you who found your way sometime or other during their stay here to join in the holy bonds of matrimony, will always remember and cherish Dr. Walker's wedding ceremony. He seemed always to have something a little special for each individual couple, and also for those of us who found our way here from Sunday to Sunday just to worship. Back in the earlier days we came in the buggies, some came in the wagon, some came barefooted; but we came to worship. We came in those days to hear a sermon and we were not in too big a hurry to go home.

"So we pause now to dedicate a memorial, a tribute, to a family who for so many years scattered flowers in the pathway of so many, whose Christian leadership put so many homes in this community on a solid foundation. I close our book, but the memories of Dr. and Mrs. Walker will live on, dimming a bit as the years pass, as memories will do. But we rejoice in the blessed assurance that the influence of their sacrificial giving of themselves both physically and spiritually will bear fruit not only in the lives of us who were blessed by their sojourn among us but in others as well."
